Bob

Michael Sodeau

Technical

Assuming a new identity in 2016, Bob is a simple stool crafted entirely from recycled cork. The rounded base allows for some movement and the concave seat adds to the comfort. The finger holes that designer Michael Sodeau added to aid repositioning of the stool inadvertently gave the stool a basic personality and this anthropomorphism led to Bob's association with Movement on the Ground, a foundation that supports refugees at the forefront of the European crisis. 10% of the profits from the sale of every Bob go directly towards practical support with a human approach. With impressive eco credentials and a history of charitable work, Bob lends personality to any environment whether on his own or in a crowd.
